AD/HD Awareness Week: 18 - 25th September 2011

Happening still: have a look at the amazing list of activities on our calendar running until October!

Launch of ADHD Partnership Support Pack: Parent-Teacher Online Toolkit

On Tuesday, September 20, the Parent-Teacher Toolkit, which was developed by the European ADHD Awareness Taskforce in collaboration with ADHD-Europe, is launched in Brussels at the event "ADHD in Children and Adolescents: Addressing Barriers to Integration and Socialisation in School". You find this link for parents and for teachers here at the left.

And just like last year, ADHD-Europe organized a European Awareness Action by sending out a few thousands of postcards like you see here below! Try to read this ten years old boy's mind!

The second survey of ADHD- First medication for adult Europe on diagnosis and treatment: launched in Berlin, May 2011

The Patient's Day was organised by ADHS Deutschland in Berlin, next to the 3rd international congress on ADHD from childhood to adult disease, organised by the World Federation of ADHD (info at our calendar).

The second survey of ADHD-Europe on diagnosis and treatment, 68 pages, was released at the same time.

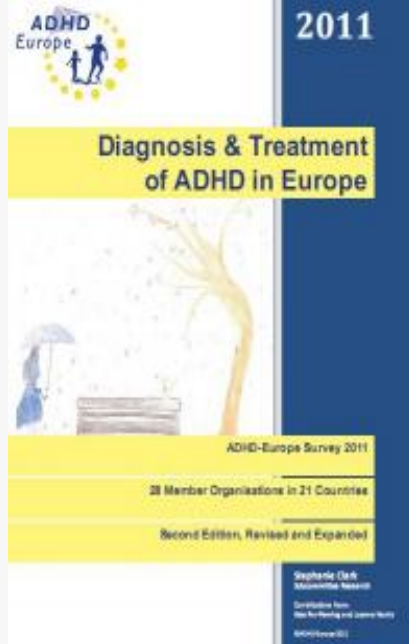

To order the survey, contact your support group, member of ADHD-Europe, or mail to info@adhdeurope.eu. (8 eu + mailing).

The first medicational treatment for adult ADHD is accepted in Germany: the company Medice has got this permission. The medication named Medikinet for adults will be on the market summer 2011.
